TYLER, Texas June 28 — "His story may show that the welfare state began in America in the 1920's when John L. Lewis told the coal industry that 'The United Mine Workers has no business dealing with a busted coal mine,'" Alex. H. Washburn, editor and publisher of the Hope (Ark.) Star, said in a speech before the Tyler Rotary Club today noon.

"We already had Big Business," the editor continued. "Mr. Lewis pioneered Big Labor — and the natural result was the creation of the third member of the triumvirate — Big Government."

"All three had their faults. Big Business sometimes pulled up stakes and left ghost towns behind. John L. Lewis created scores of ghost towns in the coal fields by dealing only with the big operators and shutting down marginal mines. The play for business left a vacuum of human destitution and misery into which government inevitably moved with its welfare programs — and latter day politicians discovered the handiness of the pledged welfare vote, and thus created and sustained Big Government."

Press Endangered

Washburn said the burgeoning welfare state ran true to history when Lewis organized coal miners helped crush the newspapers of the editor's home town, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Successive strikes against the three daily papers in the 1930's and 1940's forced them to consolidate in one building and one company, he said.

"Today," Washburn continued, "Big Government overshadows both business and labor. Business works for profits, labor works for wages — but the government works for an inexhaustible supply of taxes paid by the citizen, whether of business or of labor."

"Take the recent case of U. S. Steel's proposed price increase, against which President Kennedy thundered and threatened. Steel, responsible to its stockholders for earning a fair return on their investment, said it had made no price change since 1958, and rising costs required a price increase. But at the same time that Kennedy was denouncing Steel for 'creating inflation' the Government Printing Office granted its employees a substantial wage increase — although GPO lost $800,000 in fiscal 1961."

"I got this information from the May 1962 issue of Printing Impressions, national business publication of the graphic arts industry, which added this barbed comment: 'It looks like the New Frontier is fighting on two fronts.'"

"But Big Government has no stockholders and scant responsibility to the taxpayer — whose burden was raised for war purposes and kept at high level ever since because the politicians constantly developed new programs to use up prodigal funds."

President Kennedy was elected by a whisker, with the welfare vote being decisive in the big cities, the Arkansas editor continued.

Jefferson's Prophecy

"This very fact casts doubt on our faith in democracy. When the United States was founded only 5 per cent of our people lived in towns. Today 70 per cent live in towns. Thomas Jefferson, the great democrat, was an even greater prophet, for on December 20, 1787, writing a letter to James Madison from Paris, he said:

"I think our governments (the States) will remain virtuous for many centuries as long as they are chiefly agricultural, and this will be as long as there shall be vacant lands in any part of America. When they get piled upon one another in large cities, as in Europe, they will become corrupt as in Europe."

Washburn said that 21.1 per cent of the people of his home county of Hempstead in Arkansas are receiving cash welfare grants or surplus commodities, and this percentage probably holds true for all Arkansas and possibly the nation.

Estes Granted a Change of Venue

T By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — District Judge J. H. Starley upheld a defense argument Wednesday that Billie Sol Estes couldn't get a fair trial in his home town and said he will transfer the case to Tyler, 529 miles east of Pecos.

Attorneys representing Estes, 37, unexpectedly asked Monday for immediate trial of the promoter on one count of an eight-count indictment returned in April by the Reeves County grand jury. He asked for trial specifically on the charge that he bilked farmer Thomas A. Bell of $12,144 in a purchase agreement involving liquid fertilizer tanks.

Estes also is under federal indictment on fraud charges and congressional investigation. The West Texas financier's farming and business empire is in receivership.

District Judge Otis T. Dunagan told reporters in Tyler Wednesday night he had talked to Starley and would accept the case. No date will be set until the Pecos judge signs a formal order, he said that will be done July 23.

With selection of a jury still incomplete, defense lawyer John Cofer asked Tuesday night for indefinite delay. He said it was obvious that newspaper, magazine and broadcast accounts about the Estes case had influenced the veniremen.

Dist. Atty. R. B. McGowan expressed a view that Estes could receive a fair trial in Pecos now and said he did not join in the motion for postponement. He conceded, however, that "the law is on the side of the defense in asking for a first continuance."

County grand jurors indicted Estes on charges of obtaining $828,576 illegally from six Reeves County farmers, including Bell, through purchase contracts for fertilizer tanks.

Location of Trade Schools Announced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Education, acting on a recommendation by the state Employment Security Division voted Wednesday to establish manpower training schools at Fort Smith and Pine Bluff.

The schools will be the first established in Arkansas under the federal Manpower Development and Training Act passed this year. The act calls for training of unemployed or underemployed persons for jobs in which there is a manpower shortage.

An ESD survey showed a need for skilled labor in the Pine Bluff and Fort Smith areas.

Arkansas has been granted $300,000 to establish schools throughout the state in areas certified by the ESD. Board Chairman Marvin Bird of Earle said the $300,000 possibly would finance about 20 such schools.

The board allocated $15,000 each to the Pine Bluff and Fort Smith schools, which will be operated by the vocational division of the state Department of Education.

Generally, the money will be used to employ teachers and to rent buildings and equipment. Each person who attends the year-long courses will be given $23 a month by the federal government.

Meets Orphans

CHICAGO (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wong of West Memphis, Ark., were among the 10 couples in Chicago Wednesday to meet Chinese orphans they have adopted. The children were brought to this country through the International Adoption Program of the 10 children were among 50 orphans from Hong Kong who arrived in the U.S. Wednesday. Some were met on the west coast by parents in Los Angeles, while 27 went on to New York.

The Arkansas governor's race hits its stride tonight when Gov. Orval E. Faubus formally opens his campaign with a statewide television and radio network speech originating in El Dorado.

Vernon Whitten, one of the five men opposing him for the Democratic nomination in the July 31 primary, will make a 15-minute speech over Little Rock and El Dorado stations at 10:15 p.m.

Former Gov. Sid McMath said he would make a speech over a six station television network Saturday night. He announced today that a documentary film on his candidacy would be shown over a state TV network July 7.

McMath was campaigning in northeast Arkansas today and Kenneth Coffelt was in the north central part of the state.

Wednesday, while Faubus was addressing a fund-raising breakfast at Harrison, his headquarters announced that state Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin would manage Faubus' campaign for the second straight time.

Football star Lance Alworth, a 1962 graduate of the University of Arkansas, was picked to head Faubus' youth division, and Mrs. Mary Faught of Jonesboro, vice chairman of the Democratic State Committee, will help him lure women voters.

In Jonesboro Wednesday night, former Gov. Sid McMath slapped at the Faubus administration and the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., and announced the appointment of another University of Arkansas football star, Mickey Cisell, as co-chairman of the Young Arkansas for McMath for Governor.

Vernon Whitten, in a televised speech over KATV at Texarkana, trained his guns on Bell, whom he said had succumbed to "the same persuasion, pressure and inducements that dangled in his face two years ago."

The Mount Holly businessman said he hoped Bell would make a public statement as to whether he was receiving $10,000, $1,000 or nothing for his services to Faubus.

Rep. Dale Alford, campaigning at Searcy, charged that in 1957, a National Guard armory was sold for about one-third the value to the "White County Political Boss," state Highway Commissioner Truman Baker of Searcy.

Alford said if he were elected governor, he would kick Baker out of state politics so no one in White County would have to come to Baker for favors.

Meanwhile, Attorney Kenneth Coffelt of Little Rock accused Faubus, McMath and Alford of accepting money from gamblers to finance their campaigns.

He said Hot Springs gamblers were contributing principally to Faubus, but were giving crumbs to McMath and Alford, too.

"They are three of a kind," he said. "McMath begat Faubus and Faubus begat Alford."

Faubus told fund-raisers at his breakfast meeting in Harrison that voters had a right to re-employ any public servant they felt was doing a good job. The governor indicated he felt he had done a good job during his 7½ years in office.

Bell was not present at the news conference at which his appointment was announced, but Alworth said he decided to help Faubus because he was impressed by the progress the state had made (under Faubus) since he came here from Brookhaven, Miss., in 1958.

Bell and Faubus split during the 1961 legislature over teacher retirement and a $60 million bond proposal. The breach appeared healed Wednesday, as each man issued statements expressing warm praise for each other.

J. L. Bland, on leave from his post as administrator of the state Employment Security Division to help in the Faubus campaign, said Bell was having some dental work done Wednesday.

McMath declared the number of state employees had increased to 20,000 since he left office in 1953, when there were only 10,000. At least 5,000 of those now on state payroll were doing nothing but helping keep the present administration in power, he said.

McMath declared that eliminating these employees would save the state $25 million a year.

Turning to Arkla, McMath charged that the utility company had increased its rates every year since 1957 without public hearing and without notice.

Arkla's president, W. R. (Will) Stephens, has been labeled preposterous by McMath as the power behind the governor's chair.

Cissell, a placekicker on last year's Razorback football team, said he had accepted the co-chairman position for the Young Arkansas for McMath for Governor.

Bulletin

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a strong rally in vigorous trading today.

It was the first clear-cut advance in almost two weeks.

Many key stocks gained $1 or more in a rise that seemed stronger than the several other rallies that flittered out in recent weeks without reversing the general downtrend.

Factors cited as contributing to today's gains included more favorable business news, indications Congress may not support some administration plans which businessmen oppose, and Wall Street's feeling that a rally was overdue.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 8.66 at 545.64.

Lions Pass Out Awards Ladies Night

Austin Hutson was named Lion of the Year at the Lions Club Ladies Night held June 26 at the Youth Center. "Hawaii" was the theme of the fifth annual Lions Ladies Night, which had T. C. Cranford as general chairman. Eighty attended, including Deputy District Governor and Mrs. Jeff Laefield of DeQueen.

George Frazier was Master of Ceremonies, and special vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. Wilfred White and Dr. Lowell Harris, accompanied by Mrs. Eva Reynerson. Retiring president, James Morrow, presented the gavel to the new executive officer, Harry Phillips, who introduced the other incoming officers.

Gifts were presented to James Morrow, Paul McClellan, and Doug Flowers, who have served as president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, in the local club the past year. As the former president's wife, Mrs. Morrow also received a gift.

Awards for perfect attendance were made by Secretary McClellan to 23 members of the local club, headed by Cecil O'Steen with an 11 year Perfect Attendance Record. Besides favors, each of the ladies was given a lei, carrying out the theme of the evening as did the dinner music heard during the meal.

Sir Winston Breaks Hip in a Fall

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill fell in his room at hotel early today and suffered a fracture close to his left hip joint.

His secretary, Anthony Montague Browne, said Churchill suffered a fracture of the neck of the femur. This upper extension of the thigh bone leads into the socket of the joint. A fracture there could be a serious matter for a man of Sir Winston's age—88 next November.

He came here Tuesday for a two-week vacation, leaving Lady Churchill at their country home at Chartwell.

A spokesman for Lady Churchill in London said Sir Winston will be flown home Friday and will probably recuperate from his accident at his London home in Hyde Park Gate.

Montague Browne said, however, it was not yet decided whether the former British prime minister will remain in Monaco's Princess Grace Hospital.

Churchill was examined there by the hospital director, Dr. Charles Chatelain, and Dr. Andre Fissore, an X-ray expert.

Asked if Sir Winston had suffered other injuries such as an injured shoulder, the secretary declined to answer.

A spokesman for the family in London described the situation as "not a life and death matter."

He said Lady Churchill would not fly to Monte Carlo today.

The danger is the possibility of complications.

A British medical expert said, "The main difficulty is to counteract the immobility of the patient, which tends to affect the lungs."

Radio Application

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission received an application Wednesday from radio station KAJL in Little Rock, asking for an assignment of license to Glen A. Harman.

Rules on Aldermen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state attorney General's office ruled Wednesday that candidates for the office of alderman in second class cities must reside in the ward from which they seek to be elected, but must run at large so that all the qualified voters in the city may vote on them. The opinion went to E. E. McCormack, city clerk at Catco Rock, and W.H. Marks, chairman of the Dallas County Democratic Committee.

Mexico Set to Welcome Kennedy

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rising expectancy gripped the Mexican capital today on the eve of President Kennedy's arrival for possibly the warmest welcome Mexico has ever given a visiting chief of state.

Tens of thousands of posters, banners and signs were going up along the parade route from the International Airport to Los Pinos, the Mexican White House. Work had been held up until the last minute because of the torrential rains falling each afternoon. Officials did not want them to be damaged or faded Friday.

Three hundred bands, including many mariachi and marimba groups, were assigned places at intervals along the route.

An estimated one million persons will line the streets. Schools are closing, federal employees are being let out from work, and all unions are ordering members to turn out in force.

The Weather Bureau said it was almost certain that warm sunshine would greet President and Mrs. Kennedy when their jet touches down after a four-hour flight from Washington.

It is almost equally certain that showers will fall during the afternoon, as this is the rainy season. Police said they expect no anti-Yankee demonstrations. Steps were being taken to prevent any. Known Communists have been rounded up, students warned, and security measures are tight.

However, the Communists have called for a demonstration sometime Friday. A 24-hour visit Tuesday by Blas Roca, Cuba's top Communist, added to fears at least a minor disturbance may develop.

President Kennedy and his host, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, will talk privately on three separate occasions, with a total of about 3½ hours set aside for the conversations.

No agenda has been set for his talks, but Kennedy told his news conference in Washington Wednesday he wants to discuss all Latin-American problems, not just those between the United States and Mexico.

This reinforced speculation that the U.S. President would bring up Fidel Castro's regime and its influence throughout Latin America.

The Kennedys will spend 48 hours in Mexico. Their first day's program will be packed with activities, beginning with airport ceremonies and ending with a Mexican folklore ballet at night.

On Saturday President Kennedy will attend the annual Fourth of July celebration held by the 15,000-member American colony. On Sunday, just before they take off for Washington, President and Mrs. Kennedy will attend Mass at Mexico's leading Roman Catholic shrine, the Basilica of Guadalupe.

Freeman Admits Some Mistakes in Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman defended his agency's handling of the Billie Sol Estes case today but acknowledged "some errors and shortcomings for which I, as secretary of agriculture, must assume responsibility."

Freeman's statements were in testimony prepared for the Senate investigation of the Estes case. The Senate investigation subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is exploring how the Pecos, Tex., financier made multimillion-dollar profits under federal farm aid programs, and whether high-powered political influence deals helped him.

As the hearing began, McClellan said Freeman's actual appearance on the stand would be delayed until afternoon.

He said members of the committee had not received copies of Freeman's statement until this morning and his testimony would be delayed to give them time to study it.

Freeman declared "no official or employee now in the department is known or can reasonably be believed to have improperly accepted gifts or other favors from Estes."

"Estes received no special benefits as a result of favored treatment from the Department of Agriculture," he added.

Freeman repeated what he has said before, that the government "has lost no money through its business with Estes."

The secretary spelled out his testimony in a 50-page typed statement.

In it he said Estes should not have received additional cotton acreage allotments now under scrutiny in the hearing, and he said the appointment of Estes to the National Cotton Advisory Committee was a mistake. Freeman said, however, that Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy acted in good faith in approving the appointment.

The Senate subcommittee was told Wednesday that Murphy approved Estes' appointment last Dec. 22—the same day the undersecretary had endorsed a proposed cancellation of cotton acreage allotments to Estes in some complex land deals the legality of which has been challenged by the department.

"The undersecretary concluded that 'Estes' involvement in the transfer problem was not a sufficient reason for dropping him from the advisory committee," Freeman said. He added that Murphy based this belief on an understanding that the allotment issue was a civil legal dispute which would not affect Estes' standing as a committee member.

The first day of the Senate inquiry erupted into a political row set off by one of Freeman's subordinates.

Convicted Red Spy Arrested in Israeli

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel police today arrested Dr. Robert A. Soblen, bail-jumping fugitive from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, and hurried him before a magistrate.

Arraigned in a Tel Aviv court, Soblen was ordered held for the issuance of an official charge against him within the next 10 days. It is understood he will be accused of entering Israel illegally and with false papers.

Reliable sources said Soblen arrived Tuesday night after a flight from New York via Paris, showing immigration officers a Canadian passport in the name of his late brother, Beras Soblen.

When police asked for his passport this morning on his arrest at the Hotel Savoy in Tel Aviv he reportedly said he must have lost it on the way from the airport.

There is no extradition treaty between the United States and Israel under which the United States could ask for Soblen's return.

However, U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said in New York, "We will make every effort to secure his return."

Morgenthau said he had been notified by Israel of Soblen's arrest.

Soblen fled from New York Monday on the eve of his scheduled surrender to begin serving his life sentence, escaping via Idlewild Airport.

In Washington, the FBI and State Department said no official word had been received there about Soblen's arrest.

Soblen, 62, a psychiatrist, has been too ill to sit down for any length of time. During his four-week trial last year, Soblen reclined or stood in the courtroom most of the time, sucking on ice cubes and taking pills.

The car Soblen had been driving was found Wednesday, parked on West 91st st. A woman friend who lives nearby could not be located.

Soblen was convicted of being a member of a spy ring headed by his brother, Jack Soblen, 57, imprisoned for a seven-year term in 1957 for espionage. Soblen was a star government witness against his brother. The brothers spent their names differently.

Soblen and his brother came to the U. S. in 1941 and were naturalized in 1947.

DOROTHY DIX

Was She In Love With Love?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Craving love, I married the wrong boy because the one I really cared for would never speak up. We had gone together five years and not once in all this time did he say the words
I longed to hear, "I love you."

Then I met another boy at a dance who said that very first night, "I want you." He was big and masterful with a lazy drawl and sunny smile. If he wanted me, I wanted him. And so we married.

My folks gave me a beautiful wedding. There were parties and gifts and great excitement. Six weeks later my husband went overseas. Still in the glow of love
I wrote him every day. How was my love returned? By silence!

For three months, not a word.
I worried myself sick fearing the worst: he lay dying in some far-off hospital; he was dead and the Army wouldn't tell me. In desperation I got in touch with the Red Cross and through it, with my husband's commanding officer. Only then did I hear from him—just a casual letter saying,
"Don't worry. I'm too lazy to write."

That letter brought me to my senses like a dash of ice water.
I had married this guy simply because I craved love. In other words, I was in love with love.
To further confuse me, I met my old boy friend on the street last week. There we stood in the midst of hurrying crowds with eyes only for each other. "I always loved you," he stammered, and was gone. I don't know where he is or how to reach him but this I do know, he is the only one I ever loved or will love. My husband is coming home in five months. What shall I do? —Confused.

Dear Confused: Know yourself.
Until you do your life will remain hopelessly confused. Sit alone in a quiet room with pad and pencil. Write down your hopes, aspirations and assets; your fears, weaknesses and liabilities. What, if anything, have you done toward realizing your dreams?
Where have you failed? Why?

If you answer these questions honestly, you will be holding the mirror up to your true self. The reflection may confound, but it will also help. My guess is that it will show you're still in love with love. The man isn't so important to you as a Man who can give you security and affection.

Stick by the one you married.
At least he knew what he wanted and the other boy didn't until it was too late. Life is development of character. If you don't develop character, you defeat the very reason for being. Prove yours by living up to the marriage vows.
In the doing, you may discover when your husband returns, that he is "The Man for you."

Dear Helen: My mother gave me permission to wear lipstick when I was 13. Then she read where you said that no 13-year-old girl should wear lipstick and forbade me to wear it until I was 15. The trouble is I look very pale without lipstick. Do you think my mother should let me keep on wearing it? — Teen-ager.

Dear Teenager: A normal, healthy girl should have enough iron in her blood to supply natural color in her lips and roses in her cheeks. Ask your mother to take you to the family doctor for a physical check-up. Your diet may lack the proper minerals. Summer is the reason for plenty of outdoor exercise. Play tennis. Swim. Stay in the open as much as possible. The glow of health will do more for you than all the lipstick in the world.

Dear Helen: The parents of today seem bent on writing off grandparents. I noticed a recent letter in your column from a grandma who'd been given walking papers by her daughter, thus depriving three little girls of the joy of loving and being loved by grandma. Children sure miss a lot who don't know their grandparents. Why should their mamas and papas do this to them? —
Neglected Grandma

Dear Neglected: Parents, especially mothers, anticipate interference from Grandma. Too often their fears are justified.
More's the pity. It was a Red Letter Day when my grandfather and grandmother came to visit us. But living quarters were less restricted then than now and there was plenty of room for everyone. It is important for elderly people to preserve their identity:
to be the center of their own world rather than an adjunct to another's, be it that of their children, or grandchildren.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Write for "Ten Rules Will Help Oldsters Stay Young."

Portugal May Be Cool to Rusk

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk sits down with Dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar today in an effort to mend badly strained U.S.-Portuguese relations. A cold welcome and small anti-American demonstrations marked Rusk's arrival here for the windup of his 10-day tour of North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

Rusk was scheduled to have an hour's conference with Salazar, 75, who is embittered because the United States supported a U.N. investigation of Portugal's administration of its African colony of Angola and because the United States did not prevent India's seizure of Goa.

itary bases in Portugal's Azores Islands may hinge on the conversations with Salazar and his youthful foreign minister, Franco Nogueira.

Twenty-three per cent of the 13,000 U.S. philanthropic foundations are located in New York City.

the 1930's, but, the government's largest handout of food in a single year came to only 2.5 billion pounds," the editor continued;
"but for fiscal 1962 ending this Saturday — in an era of supposedly plenty — Washington reported last month the handout of food will total 3.7 billion pounds here and abroad.

Welfare 5th Of Vote
"This, then, is the welfare state
— and this is how it maintains itself at the voting place. With a lot of the votes held by those who receive taxes instead of earning their daily bread to pay taxes, it is clear that the taxpayer, whether big or small, has lost control of government.

"In this fifth of a series of speeches I stand where I have stood from the beginning — that the salvation of state and nation is to strike off the voting lists all those citizens getting welfare cash or surplus commodities. It would be humanitarian all the way — giving more to the truly needy," and curbing the life-and-death power of politicians over the bondsmen vote.

"If I sound like some spokesman for an extreme Rightist organization I assure you I belong to none. You can understand why frightened and desperate people may be driven into such societies to battle the government noose that is strangling them — but for such societies there is no hope.
We've had 'em before — the early Vigilantes, the later Ku Klux Kluxers.

"The real hope is in the individual citizen — the true ball carrier on the American team — working at every level in both major parties to bring about election reform and help lift America out of paralysis."

Declares Club Conditions Unbelievable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate subcommittee investigating low life behind the footlights of honky-tonk night clubs says the hearings have disclosed almost unbelievable conditions of criminality, im-decency and moral depravity.

The chairman, Sen. John L. Mc-Clellan, D-Ark., gave the assessment Tuesday as he closed temporarily the subcommittee inquiry that specifically went into allegations the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA) connived with hoodlums to exploit girl entertainers.

McClellan said evidence presented at the hearings has established that:

1. Clubs mentioned in testimony are controlled by gangsters and hoodlums, often through fronts because the real owners can't get liquor licenses.

2. AGVA has contracts with nearly all of these clubs guaranteeing exotic dancers and strippers against abuse.

3. Illegal activities such as B-girl drink hustling and prostitution are the rule rather than the exception in such clubs and a girl who will not abide by the rules of the house, however vicious and degrading they may be, cannot work.

He said AGVA ignores their rights and tells them the union can do nothing for them.

He denounced what he called collusion between AGVA officials

Kennedy Has Won Sugar Subsidy Fight

By JOE MALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has won its sugar fight in the Senate with overwhelming passage of a bill that would eliminate subsidies to foreign producers.

Passage Wednesday night by a 76-2 vote after 10 hours of debate sent the measure to a Senate House conference. There it runs smack into a House bill which is in direct opposition to administration recommendations on foreign sugar purchases.

The conferees will be working under a tight deadline since the 28-year-old sugar law, which long has divided the American market under tight controls, expires at midnight Saturday.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., head of the Senate delegation, told a reporter he would not be surprised if there is a conference deadlock. He suggested a temporary extension of the present law might result.

Rep. Harold D. Coley, D-N.C., who is expected to lead the House
conferees, has called the administration bill wholly unacceptable on foreign purchases.

Both bills agree on increasing to 60 per cent the U.S. growers' share of the domestic sugar market. It now is 55 per cent.

They also are quite similar on the allocation to American producers of more than 60 per cent of the new growth factor resulting from increasing population, although the Senate measure is slightly more generous to U.S.
beet growers.

The two bills disagree completely on the method of handling the 40 per cent of American consumption reserved for foreign countries.

Beside following the administration lead in eliminating the premium subsidy price on foreign purchases, the Senate also knocked out all country-by-country allocations except for the long-standing obligation to the Philippines.

The House bill named 25 countries and gave them specific quotas.

The Senate accepted Kennedy's proposal that 2.58 million tons of the foreign share be allotted to Cuba if that country's Communist government is overturned. Meanwhile, the tonnage would go to friendly nations on a competitive basis.

The House version reserved 1.5 million tons for Cuba but parceled that out among all nations in the next year.

22,000 Killed

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 22,000 persons were killed in accidents in the first three months of 1962, a sharp increase over the same period last year, the National Safety Council reports.

"It is quite clear that AGVA officials at the national as well as the branch level are fully aware of the existence of all these conditions and have done nothing to correct them," he said.

Comedian Joey Adams, the union's president, was the last witness, and he accused the subcommittee of smearing AGVA.

In a stormy, table-banging wind-up Adams contended McClellan was blaming the union for failure of federal authorities and local police to do their jobs.

Celestial Sphere Survey Planned

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A scientist says there are plans for a spaceship to explore and survey the entire celestial sphere—hopefully by late next year.

The plans were outlined at a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers by John M. Mccovick Jr. He is a project engineer for the space science group of preliminary design with the Grumman Aircraft Corp. of New York.

He said plans call for a spaceship to orbit the earth at an altitude of about 500 miles in a project shared by the University of Wisconsin and the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

The award, a plaque, commemorates 3 million man hours worked without disabling injury or day lost because of disabling injury.
The council has 375 employees and accumulated its record in 4 years, 3 months.

William H. Lowe, Inland Steel treasurer and the NSC's board chairman, presented the award
Wednesday to the council president, Howard Pyle.

manship of the Young Arkansans for McMath for Governor because he thought McMath was the man to get Arkansas moving again.

Jo Buckley of Arkadelphia is the other chairman of the organization. Alford told audiences in McGehee, Dumas, Gould, Pine Bluff and Searcy that Faubus was playing politics with a pre-campaign announcement of a $1 million teacher bonus. But, he said, teachers had seen through this effort to buy their votes and influence.

Wednesday night he said Baker purchased the armory in Searcy for $35,000. It has just been remodeled, Alford said, and was worth at least a $100,000.

The representative also challenged Faubus to a public debate on campaign issues, and offered to match financial statements with Faubus based on the time at which they went into office and the present.

Whitten said Bell should read his oath of office, the constitution and his legislative bonus check record. He said he presumed Bell also had neglected to resign or arrange for a leave of absence from his position as superintendent of the Parkin School District in Cross County.

"It is difficult to conclude that he could render continuous and valuable services to the Parkin School district by lounging in air conditioned political headquarters in Little Rock," Whitten said.

Whitten said he thought taxpayers would appreciate it if Bell would explain whether his relationship with Dallas (Pete) Raney had anything to do with his decision to become Faubus' campaign manager.

Raney is Bell's brother-in-law. Whitten said he also was a business associate of Stephens and a close friend of the present governor.

In one of his whirlwind stumping tours through north central Arkansas, Coffelt delivered his bitterest attack of the campaign. He told a Heber Springs audience McMath's administration was the most corrupt in the history of Arkansas.

"And Faubus, who was his highway director, was right in the middle of it," he said. Coffelt claimed that Faubus retained McMath's organization and made "himself and six others comfortable millionaires."

The attorney said the six others were former state Highway Commissioner Harry Parkin; Bill Smith, Faubus' legal advisor; Harry Hastings, a wholesale liquor dealer, and Dallas Raney and his brothers, T. J. and Alton, bond brokers.

Coffelt said Stephens, "Faubus' right arm," owed more than he

"Since then, because of increases which his gas company has obtained, Stephens has a net worth of about $10 million," Coffelt declared.

Old Robin in 4th Win; Yanks Climb Some

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Robin Roberts is on a definite upcurve. The 35-year-old right-hander who hit a dip when he was handed his unconditional release by the New York Yankees this season won his fourth straight for the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday, beating the Chicago White Sox 3-1.

Paul Foytack and Detroit beat first-place Cleveland 4-0, the Yankees whipped Minnesota 7-3 and Los Angeles blanked Boston 3-0, leaving the Indians one game ahead of the Twins, with the Yanks and Angels two games off the pace. In the AL's other game, Kansas City beat Washington 4-1.

In the National League—first-place San Francisco beat Cincinnati 6-3; Los Angeles took a 6-2 decision over Milwaukee; St. Louis shut out Chicago twice, 4-0 and 8-0; and Pittsburgh shaded New York 6-5 in 10 innings. Philadelphia and Houston had the day off.

Roberts was a 20-game winner six years in a row for the Phils, but gradually faded off and last year was a dismal 1-10. The word was his last ball was gone, and he hadn't developed a delivery to replace it.

The White Sox drew first blood when Joe Cunningham singled in a sixth-inning run, but Jim Gentile rapped left-hander Juan Pizarro for one homer in the last of the sixth and smacked another with one on in the eighth.

Foytack won his sixth in seven decisions, six-hitting the Indians, while the Tigers dealt Cleveland ace Dick Donovan his third loss against 11 victories.

The Yankees went to work early against Jim Kaat, roughing up the Minnesota southpaw for six runs in the first two innings. Tom Tresh led New York's attack with a homer and single. Roger Maris also homered, for the Yanks—his 18th of the year, compared with 27 at this stage last year.

Ralph Terry gave the Twins the Angels, no-hit by Boston's Earl Wilson Tuesday night, rebounded as Don Lee and Dean Chance collaborated on a five-hit eighth.

McKinley fell before little-known Mike Han of England Wednesday in another major upset in this year's edition of the historic tournament. The 21-year-old star from St. Ann, Mo., was the only American seeded, with the No. 5 rating.

McKinley, losing finalist to Australian Rod Laver last year, said he had a strained muscle in his forearm which prevented him from gripping his racket properly. He was beaten in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

That left only Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., and the top-ranked U.S. player, Whitney Reed, Alameda, Calif.—all unseeded—in the field that includes 10 Australians.

The American women have had much better luck, however. Billie Jean Moffitt, Long Beach, Calif., set the pace Tuesday with her eye-popping upset of top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia, and Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex., Justina Bricka, St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Karen Hantz, Susan, Chula Vista, Calif., marked up victories Wednesday.

ter against the Red Sox. Lee came out with none out in the ninth after a walk to Pete Runnels and a single by Bob Tillman, and Chance left the runners stranded by putting down the final three men in order.

Kansas City netted a pair of unearned runs in the fourth inning and went on to win their third in a row as Ed Rakow hand-cuffed the Senators. Rakow held Washington scoreless on five hits until the ninth, when singles by Harry Bright, Ken Retzer and Bob Johnson produced the Senators' run.

By the end of 1961, there were between 16 and 17 million persons in the U.S. who had reached the age of 65 or more.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

ARKANSAS, William Woodruff, Sr., founder of the Arkansas Gazette, drove the last spike in the Little Rock-DeWalls Bluff section of the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad, Arkansas, the day he died the occasion with beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry now contributes more than three million tax dollars to Arkansas each year—money that helps support our hospitals, schools and highways.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and properly brewed beer and ale are served.

U.S. Prestige Slipping at Wimbledon

By JOHN SHEPPARD

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—If the United States' dwindling tennis prestige is to be bolstered at Wimbledon this year, it looks like the women will have to do it.

Thirteen American men—including Chuck McKinley—fell by the wayside in the first two rounds of singles play and only three remain in the Australian-dominated field of 32 that went into today's third round.

McKinley fell before little-known Mike Han of England Wednesday in another major upset in this year's edition of the historic tournament. The 21-year-old star from St. Ann, Mo., was the only American seeded, with the No. 5 rating.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

Drysdale Wins 13th, Dodgers Take Braves

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Calm, cool and collected, that's Don Drysdale. That's right—Don Drysdale.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' fireballer, whose pitching talents have been diminished in the past by an easily reached boiling point, has learned to curb his temper and seems headed toward his first 20-victory season in the majors.

Drysdale, 25, won No. 13 Wednesday night with a five-hitter that whipped Milwaukee 6-2, but had to maintain his composure during a series of incidents. Twice he was hit by pitches, and twice had to pitch out of jams created by errors. In the sixth, Maury Wills batted a grounder by Hank Aaron, allowing the first Braves' run to score. In the eighth, Ed Matthews got a double when Frank Howard misjudged his fly, and took third on a passed ball.

The Giants remained on top with their fifth consecutive victory, 6-3 over the Reds. Third-place Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 6-5 in 10 innings and fourth-place St. Louis blanked the Chicago Cubs twice, 4-0 and 8-0 on shutouts by Larry Jackson and Ray Sadecki. Houston and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

In the American League, Detroit knocked off first-place Cleveland 4-0, the New York Yankees beat second-place Minnesota 7-3, Los Angeles Angels blanked Boston 3-0, Baltimore edged the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and Kansas City defeated Washington 4-1.

Drysdale (13-4) also got the Dodgers started in the fifth when he was hit by a Bob Shaw (9-4) pitch. Wills forced him, then rode home on Willie Davis' homer. The Dodgers clinched it with three in the seventh against reliever Hank Fischer.

Ed Bailey, who hit a pinch-hit grand slam homer for the Giants Tuesday, tagged a Ted Wills pitch for a two-run homer in the sixth inning that snapped a 3-3 tie against his former Reds' teammate. Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou each homered for the San Francisco Giants. Wally Pate hit his 12th for the defending NL champs. Bob Bolin (1-0), won it in relief of Mike McCormick. Wills lost his first decision.

Bill Virdon's fourth single, a walk to Dick Groat, and Bob Skinner's third single got the game to a 1-1 tie in the bottom of the ninth. The winner across for the Pirates Cardinals ran their latest winning streak to five games.

Spring Hill No Match for Locals

Wednesday night, the Hope Junior American Legion took their fourth victory from Spring Hill, Louisiana, with a score of 6 to 1.

Hope didn't score in the first inning when Spring Hill made its only run. Hope came back in the second and made it 4-1, with Dan Hatfield coming in on errors, and Carl McMurtrey and Mutt Wassell, who walked, were batted in by a single from Jabo Horton, who was then sent home by a single from Jerry Burnett. The other two runs were scored in the sixth with McMurtrey coming in on his single, a steal, a wild pitch and a single from Horton. Horton then went to second and third on an error and came home on a passed ball.

The locals managed seven hits coming from Earl Ray Murphy, a double, Horton and McMurtrey, with two singles each, and one single each from Burnett and Hatfield.

Ronnie Barksdale was the winning pitcher. He yielded five hits, walked one and struck out five. Spring Hill's pitchers were Nelson and Duke who together gave up 7 hits, walked two, and struck out seven. Friday night, Hope journeys to Camden to play the team that gave them their only defeat thus far.

Chicken Litter Valuable

Pictured above is one machine that the people who manufacture will not stand directly behind.

Vergil McNatt is spreading chicken litter on coastal bermuda on Corn Bell's Rocky Mound Farm. Drainage ditches were constructed on 30 acres of wet land. This land was sprigged to coastal bermuda grass. They have a seven acre irrigation reservoir and a sprinkler irrigation system to irrigate in case of dry weather. They utilized chicken litter from laying houses to fertilize. Corn Bell also has high bred Angus cattle to graze this high quality pasture. In the near future this should be a show farm.

According to George F. Brown of the Soil Conservation Service, Hempstead County is rapidly growing into beef cattle country. People are using chicken litter to build the best pastures in the state. New grasses are being introduced into the pasture program such as Bahis grass, Coastal Bermuda, Kings Ranch, Blue Stem, and Rescue.

Monroe Samuel of DeAnn plant 20 acres of Bahia. George Fuller has six acres of Bahia and Congressman, Oren Harris plant 20 acres of Bahia this year. Mrs. Rennie McMillen has ten acres of Kings Ranch Blue Stem grass. All this pastureage being developed calls for more stock water ponds.

Only Two Ways to Keep Deer in Balance

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh of a series of informal articles pertaining to current deer management problems in Arkansas.)

By Gus Albright
News Editor
Arkansas Game and Fish Commission

It is a fact, but often overlooked, that the number of deer in the woods depends mostly on the amount of deer food in the woods; not on the whim of the Game and Fish Commission, or on the wishes of the deer hunter.

Deer do not make their own food; it has to grow. If there is winter food for 100 deer in your favorite hunting place and 100 deer are there after the hunting season, about 100 will be left in spring.

If we have 150 left after the hunting season and there is food for only 100, no brand of magic, or sentiment, or wishful thinking will bring more than 100 through alive. And the surviving 100 will be in rough shape.

Actually we would probably end up with much less than 100 because that extra 50 will eat up so much food before they starve, or die from disease, that the whole food level is reduced even further.

Of course, some deer will die every year, even with good food conditions. There are always some weaklings. But mass starvation is a needless waste.

Today Arkansas, as most of the country, is still riding the crest of the deer-wave that started building a couple of decades back. How long the joy ride will last is anyone's guess.

But the big problem is one of feed. In numerous places there is too little to support current populations. In these areas "deficit spending" is already going on. The herds are consuming more browse than is being produced in a given year. In other words, we have reached the point of no return. And things will get worse.

Trees just naturally grow. As they do, it means fewer plants of browse size. Maturing forests can't be returned to a shrub stage economically; and anyway, we need the on-coming timber.

Letter Drive Asked to Get Re-hearing

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — An evangelist has called for a national letter campaign to secure a re-hearing on the U.S. Supreme Court's prayer decision and force the court by public opinion to back down.

The Rev. Braxton B. Sawyer, who preaches daily on a nine-station radio network in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, told his listeners today that Monday's decision forbidding prayer in Hyde Park, N.Y., schools, "is the most destructive blow that has been struck at Americanism."

He asked for 25,000 letters leading with the Hyde Park School board to ask for a Supreme Court re-hearing. If it is granted, Sawyer said he would try to spread the letter writing campaign nationally and influence the court to rescind its decision.

Sawyer asked that the letters be sent to him at Fort Smith.

"We have one chance in a million plus a miracle of getting it reversed," he said. "If enough of this kind of reaction would pile in, the court won't go against the demand of the people. Public opinion still sways the courts."

If enough letters are sent to him, Sawyer said, he will take them to Hyde Park and plead with the school board to request the rehearing. "They are the only group that can do it," he said. "It's in their hands."

Sawyer said he conducts non-denominational evangelistic revivals in the five states in addition to his radio sermons. He was a Baptist minister for 20 years. He said he graduated from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., and was pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church in Fort Smith for several years.

Group Plans to Defeat Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An apparent organized effort to defeat Sen. J. William Fulbright in his bid for reelection was begun Monday night with formation of a Little Rock unit of the Conservative Society of America.

Wardham Poag of Nashville, Tenn., national field organizer for the society, directed formation of the Little Rock group with about 25 members. Poag said he hopes to form political action units at Springfield, Fort Smith, Hot Springs and Pine Bluff this week.

Poag spent most of his time explaining the purposes of the society and discussing what he termed a socialistic trend in government.

Poag said he has no personal enmity toward Fulbright.

"He is a scholar and a brilliant man — there's no question about that. But I think we ought to retire him to a place like England, where the socialistic atmosphere is much more suitable for him."

Poag said the society was characterized as a political organization and set up like a party. It supports good conservative candidates in either major party he said.

But he also said there was only one political party, "the Socialist Party, which has two branches the Democrats and Republicans."

Poag told the group that there was "a good possibility of beating Fulbright with Mr. Chandler."

"If Mr. Chandler fails," he said, "we are going to jump in there and see what we can do for Dr. (Kenneth G.) Jones." Jones, of El Dorado, is the Republican nominee for the Senate seat occupied by Fulbright.

Poag said he understood both men were "acceptable conservatives."

Missing Man Now in Custody

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Anthony J. Kleiber, 29, missing since Friday while skin diving at Table Rock reservoir and presumed drowned, was taken into custody at a Springfield bus station early today.

Questioned by Sheriff Tommy Walker of Stone County, Kleiber was quoted as saying, "I just wanted to leave." His wife, Betty, who had been at Table Rock, was notified that he had been found.

Police said Kleiber would be questioned further.

Dragging and searching operations for Kleiber began Friday and continued over the weekend. He had left personal effects on the bank and in a lakeside cabin. Kleiber, of Springfield, had purchased a bus ticket to Oakland, Calif., and was recognized. Police were summoned.

Wants Child in Integrated School

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A Negro lawyer who says he wants his daughter to have an "integrated education" was told Tuesday night the Dollarway School Board would take action on his request for her re-assignment to a school.

guarding pro-integrationists or segregationists," Taylor said.

Armour mentioned several instances of integration recently which have accepted the law" and said he believed the Commission picked Memphis as a hearing site "because we've done a good job here."

A massive police guard watched over the proceedings last fall when 13 Negro first graders entered four previously all-white schools and ended a century of public school segregation. There were no incidents.

Dollarway in a "reasonable length of time."

George Howard, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, requested in May that his 14-year-old daughter, Sarah, be re-assigned to the school. She has been attending all - Negro Townsend Park.

Howard told a closed meeting of the school board Tuesday night he wanted his daughter re-assigned because he wants her to have an integrated education and because he wants her to attend a school which is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dollarway, which was integrated in 1960, qualified for North Central accreditation during the past school year. Three Negroes now attend the school.

The U.S. birth rate in 1961 exceeded 4.3 millions, an all-time high.

Plant to Expand

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The U.S. Forcraft Corp., of Fort Smith is expected to expand its plants and add 34 men to its work force due to contracts received from the Army and Navy. W. H. Daniels, the company president, said the firm would add $60,000 worth of machinery and build an additional 10,000 square feet of manufacturing space. Daniels said the new contracts are for making shell parts and missile parts. The plant manufactures more than 300 separate items, including some for Project Mercury.

Arkansas officially became the "Land of Opportunity" by an act of the 1953 Legislature.

Pulaski county Rural School District and Waldron in Scott county both serve an area of 691 square miles — the largest in Arkansas.

Civil Rights Hearing at Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — The United States Commission on Civil Rights was scheduled to open a two-day hearing in Memphis today amidst loud protests from the segregationist Memphis Citizens Council.

Brooks Norfleet, attorney for the council, met early arrivals of the Commission Sunday with a formal document of protest charging the hearing was rigged.

When he failed in a try to set up a meeting with commission members, Norfleet told a small group of followers and newsmen, "I don't like arrogant bureaucrats coming into our community and telling us what we can and cannot do."

Norfleet's words were in marked contrast with a statement by Police Commissioner Claude Armour earlier that the people of Memphis "are accepting integration as an eventuality."

Armour told a televised news conference that Memphians may not like public school desegregation but they are more conditioned to it now than they were last fall when token integration was introduced.

Armour was among some 35 witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the Commission. Representatives of civic business and political circles have been called to testify on a variety of civil rights subjects.

It is the first hearing in the south in a current Commission study of civil rights problems in urban areas. Topics will include sit-in demonstrations, health services, education, employment and housing.

The Citizens Council charged the commission with calling witnesses who would fit the report it is seeking. Norfleet said he had offered to testify but no invitation was forthcoming.

William L. Taylor, assistant staff director for the commission, said his group is merely gathering facts for reports to Congress and the President.

Table Settings

One out of three brides has purchased part of her flatware before she even walks down the aisle. In fact, a recent Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation survey revealed that more than 72% of the flatware purchased is made of stainless steel.

More and more young women are discovering it's as good looking as higher priced metals and lasts a lifetime with a minimum of care. Elegant enough for company, yet practical enough for everyday — the bride no longer needs two sets of flatware.

Modern gals are discovering too, the importance of learning how to use and display beautiful flatware. Here is a place setting that needs only slight changes with different servings.

- dinner fork used for both main dish and salad
- dessert fork
- dinner knife
- teaspoon
- dinner plate
- bread-and-butter plate with butter spreader across it
- salad plate
- wine glass

Palsy Halted by Freezing the Brain

By ALTON BLAKSLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) Freeze welding in the brain is halting the uncontrolled shaking and rigidity of muscles in shaking palsy.

Brain cells causing the trouble are frozen or welded with liquid nitrogen at a temperature of 150 degrees below zero. The nitrogen is forced on a narrow tube leading to the trouble spot.

The technique is painless, bloodless, and can stop the shaking in 85 per cent of properly selected patients, Dr. Irving S. Cooper of New York City said today.

The same method looks promising for destroying some brain tumors, but this work still is experimental, he told the American Medical Association's 111th annual convention. The tumors become frozen solid, and are left to shrivel away. This may permit surgery of tumors which cannot be reached otherwise, he said.

Dr. Cooper, of St. Barnabas Hospital for Chronic Diseases and New York University Medical Center, devised the freeze method within the last year for treating shaking palsy, or Parkinson's disease.

He uses a thin cannula consisting of an inner and outer tube, with a silver tip. This is inserted to reach the area where brain cells are firing off wild electrical signals.

Liquid nitrogen forced down the inside tube freezes the silver tip. As the nitrogen vaporizes, it escapes up through the outer tube. Cooling the brain for 30 seconds at 32 degrees gives time to test whether the silver tip is in the right place to halt the shaking. If it isn't, no harm is done, Dr. Cooper said. If it is correctly placed, then deep freezing for three to five minutes destroys the guilty area to halt the tremors and rigidity.

Some patients go home within our days after surgery. One man, 75, was home a week later with his shaking halted. "Many patients return to their old jobs," Dr. Cooper said.

The death risk is less than one per cent, Dr. Cooper said. The Public Health Service estimates there are 300,000 persons with Parkinson's disease, and 25,000 to 40,000 new cases annually.

Charges Fear and Intimidation

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Kenneth G. Jones of El Dorado, Republican candidate for the Senate seat held by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., told the Fort Smith Republican Women's Association Monday that the Kennedy administration is using fear and intimidation to further its aims.

"We Republicans are not afraid of the emerging dynasty of the New Frontier," Jones said, or of "its intrepid leader, John F. Kennedy, nor its nepotistic practices."

"Nor are we intimidated by the tax-supported parade of New Frontier dignitaries already passing through Arkansas for the express purpose of salvaging" Fulbright's Senate seat, he said.

Today's children will live under a planned economy and never know individual freedom, Jones said, unless voters discard government by fear. He said Americans fear old age, illness, poverty and holocaust.

One of every nine homes built in the United States during 1961 was mobile.

Will Propose Amendment to Constitution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., said today he will propose a constitutional amendment to permit prayer in the public schools.

"I was shocked by yesterday's decision of the Supreme Court," Beall said, "and I feel that legislation should be introduced immediately to reaffirm the nation's faith and trust in the Supreme Being."

The high court ruled 6-1 that a nonsectarian prayer authorized by New York State authorities for use in public schools violated the Constitution's requirement for separation of church and state.

Beall said he was checking the language of his proposed amendment with constitutional lawyers, but expected to introduce it in the Senate later this week.

He said the amendment proposal would declare in essence that nothing in the Constitution should be interpreted to "deny the right of any school to make available to its students periodic expressions of prayer or religious observance, provided that participation by students shall not be mandatory."

Beall said the Founding Fathers themselves had made clear their acknowledgement of a Deity, and that the principle has been restated with every currency issue bearing the words "In God We Trust" and in the pledge of allegiance to the flag with the words "under God."

Shoots Dog, Fined and Sentenced

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Wayne Meeker, 27, of Trumann was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $25 in Jonesboro Municipal Court Tuesday for shooting and killing a hunting dog.

Deputy Sheriff G. C. Johnson testified Meeker fired at the animal from a pickup truck as the dog was walking along a highway.

Judge E. D. McGowan also ordered Meeker to pay $100 to the dog's owner, Seyman Haun of Jonesboro.

as a memorial to his two brothers, George Marshall Armistead and Henry Armistead Jr.

In the letter Lee mentions Maj. Lewis Addison Armistead, a grand-uncle of the donor.

Bids Taken on $5 Million Highway Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission opened bids today on 11 road and bridge jobs costing $5,013,431.

The commission also opened bids on a contract for construction of four buildings to house the Materials and Tests Section at a new headquarters site on Highway 67-70 southwest of Little Rock.

R. H. Malson Jr., Co., of Little Rock was apparent low bidder of this project at $856,335.

The largest road contract—surfacing 12.3 miles of Highway 81 from Hamburg to the Drew County line—was bid at $1,304,886 by the T. L. James Construction Co. of Ruston, La.

A contract for surfacing 4.9 miles of Highway 44 in Lee County was withdrawn because of technical difficulties and no bids were received on a contract for surfacing .96 miles of Highway 64 in Cross County at the St. Francis River bridge. No bid was received on a surfacing project in Cross County.

Here are the jobs on which the Highway Commission opened bids today, by counties, with apparent low bidders and amounts of the bids.

Benton — Building the substructure on a 1,515-foot bridge over the White River and short sections of roadway embankment on Highway 12. (The new bridge is to be on a new location of Highway 12 immediately south of the present bridge, which is about six

Now's the time to take advantage of the abundance of garden-fresh vegetables, especially your favorite spring and summer greens. Bring them to your dinner table topped with these quick Corn Meal Dumplings, tender and steaming.
The Corn Meal Dumplings are quick because they're made with enriched self-rising corn meal. All you need add to the corn meal to make the dumplings is an egg, milk and shortening. Baking powder and salt have already been blended with the corn meal to shorten your preparation time.
Cook your greens with "hog jowl" for added flavor. At the end of the cooking time, drop in heaping mounds of Corn Meal Dumpling batter, then simmer 'em for 20 minutes until tender. He sure self-rising corn meal takes part in all your corn bread baking — for plain corn bread, corn sticks, muffins, hush puppies, spoon bread — all your favorites. It means added nutrition for you and your family because self-rising products are enriched with niacin, thiamine, riboflavin, iron and calcium.

CORN MEAL DUMPLINGS
1 tablespoon melted shortening or oil
1/2 cup enriched self-rising corn meal
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup milk
Heat greens until boiling. Combine egg, milk and shortening or oil. Add liquid ingredients to corn meal, stirring until all corn meal is moistened. Batter should be quite thick. Drop batter by teaspoons into pot of boiling greens. Cover. Simmer 20 minutes, or until dumplings are cooked. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Science Hints Birds Can Tell Time

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A world census of shark attacks, cruise to another ocean for a shark, and a hint that birds can tell time are subjects for science at work.

Shark attacks are dangerous. In the last years, sharks made at least 30 attacks on humans—without provocation. Six persons, among the 31 hurt, were injured fatally. Four attacks on boats by sharks failed to injure anyone.

So reports the Shark Research Council of the American Institute of Biological Sciences. It makes an annual census of shark attacks that can be authenticated.

Last year's attacks ranged from S. mainland coasts to Hawaii and other Pacific islands, to Bermuda, Australia, Africa, the Mediterranean and even 150 miles up the Limpopo River of East Africa.

As for people who tried to hunt, trap or chase sharks, they provoked at least nine shark attacks. One person was injured, but none fatally.

Another Ocean
The Columbia University research vessel Vema is sailing into another ocean. It is one of some 10 research craft peering into the unknown depths of the Indian Ocean.

The Vema's new purview covers some 28 million square miles—about 14 per cent of the earth's surface. Little is known of the earth's bottom surface and its history.

On an earlier voyage, the Vema discovered that the Indian Ocean connected south of Africa with a 1,500-mile crack in the earth's crust, a crack that follows an earthquake zone extending the entire length of the Atlantic Ocean.

Bird Watching by Radar
English scientists are using radar to watch the flight patterns of birds under various conditions. The hope is that the films of the radar screens can answer some of the questions about animal behavior.

Squash Bug Infestation Very Heavy

Squash bugs are very destructive to squash and other related plants. Infestations are very heavy in Hempstead county, according to Calvin J. Caldwell, county agent. These insects suck juice from plants and may cause them to wilt down over night.

The adults of the squash bug is a brown bug about one-half inch long. The eggs are laid in clusters on the leaves and stems of plants. They are brown in color. The young squash bugs are gray in color with black legs. They often feed in groups.

When only a few bugs are present they may be controlled by hand picking. After bugs become more numerous, control can be obtained only by a thorough dusting of plants. Lindane or Sevin may be used up to one day of harvest.

Delectable Drinks And Sauce The Instant Strawberry Way

Make it in moments—a sauce that is clear as crystal, sweet 'n' strawberry, as sassy colored as a red lollipop. Takes only two basic ingredients to make this sauce—quick strawberry-flavored mix and corn syrup—yet it glamorizes ice cream puddings, plain cakes, into "company creations."

Best known for flavoring milk, quick strawberry-flavored mix makes delicious drinks in an instant. Just stir it in, and strawberry milk is ready to serve. If you like a bubbly drink, try combining milk, strawberry-flavored mix, and your favorite carbonated beverage, to make a Strawberry Sipper. Quick, cool, good for you.

Quick Strawberry Sauce

1 cup quick strawberry-flavored mix 1/4 cup water
1/4 cup light corn syrup 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine quick strawberry-flavored mix, syrup, water and lemon juice in 1-quart saucepan. Place over high heat. Bring to full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Chill. Serve over ice cream, custard or puddings. Yield: Approx. 3/4 cup.

Fill 10-ounce glass 2/3 full with milk. Add 2 heaping teaspoons quick strawberry-flavored mix; stir briskly until blended. Fill with chilled carbonated water. Serve immediately. Yield: 1 serving.

Export Ban to Some Red Nations Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has voted to ban reports to Iron Curtain nations which would boost the Communists' economic potential to make trouble for the United States.

The crackdown was approved Monday, extending the export ban which already covered goods of military significance. Then the House passed a measure extending for three years the Export Control Act, the legislative authority for the license system under which the government screens exports to the Communist world and cuts off shipments of some goods.

A House committee charged that some U.S. foreign aid has been used on projects which promote communism in Southeast Asia. The Government Operations Committee said in some instances this was done with full knowledge on the part of aid officials, while in other cases they didn't know what was going on.

Says German Police Hit, Clubbed Him

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—American actor James Garner said today that he was clubbed and pushed by police in the week-end rioting in the Bohemian quarter of Schwabing.

Garner, from Los Angeles, is making a picture here. He said he was walking in Schwabing Saturday night when police stopped him. "I found myself in the middle of a crowd," Garner said. "Suddenly a group of police stopped me. I told them I was American but they pushed me to one side and one of them grabbed my wallet, which was sticking out of the back pocket of my slacks."

"My passport and about $400 were in it and he was just about to throw it out his hand when I snatched it out of his hand."

Garner, who is 6 feet 2 and weighs about 190 pounds, said he was later stopped again, together with two American soldiers who were in uniform.

"Five or six police began pushing me around and swinging at me with lead-weighted rubber clubs and one of them hit my arm," Garner said. "One of the soldiers was knocked to the ground and the lower plate of his false teeth fell out."

Garner said he and the two soldiers finally managed to escape into the crowd.

"I was shocked, disappointed and a little angry," said the 34-year-old actor. "I just don't understand police hitting women—and I saw quite a bit of that."

Police earlier reported the arrest of 200 persons, including three Americans whom they did not identify, in a post-midnight battle with a crowd described as "beatniks. About 300 police were involved in the fifth straight night of rioting in the Bohemian quarter."

The rioting began last week in an impromptu concert held by three young guitarists after residents had complained.

Salvos Still Fly at U.S. Court Ruling

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress, still firing salvos of criticism at the Supreme Court's ruling against public school prayers, have introduced amendments to the Constitution to override the decision.

But congressional leaders—and the long, tedious mechanics involved—cast doubt on the move's success.

Charges of atheism and giving aid to communism were hurled across Capitol Hill at the white marble court building by members of the legislative branch, some of whom contended the justices had taken God out of the law of the land.

While amendments to legalize classroom praying were introduced in both House and Senate, there were also demands for stronger action, including amendments to require Supreme Court justices to stand for election and giving Congress the power to overrule the court's decisions.

The possibility was seen as remote, however, that any of the suggested constitutional changes could win the needed two-thirds majority in both houses and ratification by three-fourths of the states.

In the Senate, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he didn't think the proposals to put classroom prayers in the Constitution could be passed.

"The proposition of church and state is so ingrained into our people that I doubt that such an amendment would be adopted," Dirksen said.

A similar view was expressed in the House by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, who declared the court had no other choice.

"The First Amendment is well grounded in history and has served to save the United States from civil religious strife," Celler said.

The court held to 1 Monday that a prayer drafted by New York's Board of Regents and recommended for recital at the beginning of each school day was "an establishment of religion" forbidden by the First Amendment. It is a non-denominational prayer and pupils whose parents objected could be excused from reciting it.

Justice Hugo L. Black, who wrote the majority opinion, said that placing "the power, prestige and financial support of government" behind a particular form of religious observance tends to coerce religious minorities to conform.

Even those who remained non-committal about the court itself, however, expressed concern that the ruling, underscoring as it does the doctrine of separation of church and state, casts a cloud of uncertainty over a whole range of federal programs of assistance to church-supported institutions.

such as hospitals, libraries and colleges.

One making a broad interpretation of the ruling was Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who said: "One effect of the decision in my view, is to make it clear that the Congress cannot enact legislation granting or loaning tax funds to church schools for any services other than those which pupils would need—even in the absence of their attendance from school—such as health services and the lunch program."

Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, summed up the feeling of most members concerned about the effect of the decision on such legislation when he said, "It complicates an already confused situation."

TV Experiment

HARRISON Ark. (AP)—Newton County has been approved by the state Board of Education as one of five audio-visual pilot experiment counties. County School Supervisor J. W. Waters said Tuesday, Waters said the system will be given $2,500 for the purchase of films and film strips during the 1962-63 school year. The system includes schools at Jasper, Deer, Mount Judea, Western Grove and Compton.

Lost Youth Found

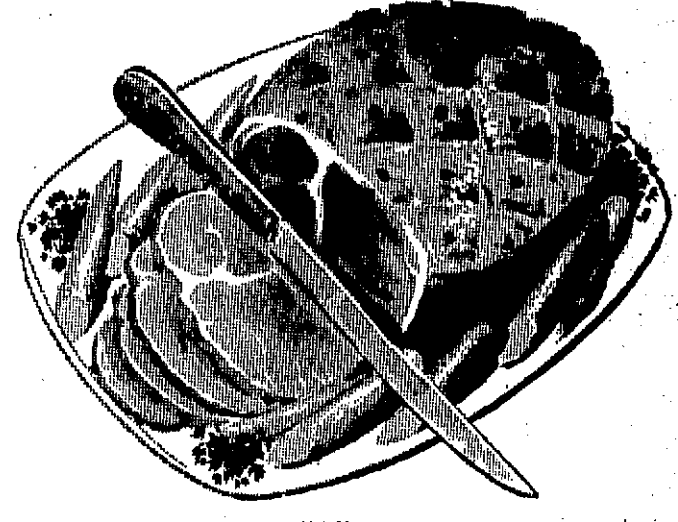

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Two-year-old John Allen Parker was found unharmed in woods near Callon Tuesday after a 3 1/2 hour search by some 200 volunteers. Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Parker of El Dorado said their son wandered away from his home. Attendees at an El Dorado hospital released the boy after an examination showed him in good condition.

Packin' The Picnic

Going on a picnic can be a real chore if you try to take half the kitchen with you. Here are a few tips to help you lighten the load, make your summer picnics more fun and less fuss.

Clean and slice onions, carrots and celery at home. Wrap them, as well as pickles and olives, separately in transparent saran so you can leave heavy jars at home. By precleaning the vegetables you can leave tools and refuse behind. With fresh tomatoes, slice but do not separate slices. Wrap each tomato closely, then when ready to serve they are easy to handle. Carry mustard and catsup in lightweight plastic bottles.

Butter rolls or bread at home, put together, then wrap in saran and put into the picnic basket. Wrap cold meats and cheese slices separately and take along in this manner. They will be well protected on route and at the picnic site. Any combination that is personally favored can be put together easily.

Here are some of the convenient items to have on hand for the picnic season. Try to store most of them together in cupboard or pantry for quick assembly.

- Paper Napkins
- Plastic dishes
- Disposable cups
- Plastic forks, spoons
- Salt, pepper shakers
- Vacuum bottle
- Roasting forks
- Matches
- Roll of saran
- Can, bottle openers
- Insulated cooler
- Insect repellent
- Flashlight
- Camera

Another tip—it is wise to have saran on hand for the return trip. It is excellent for protecting leftovers and disposing of meat remnants. It can be used too, for wrapping damp items such as washcloths and bathing suits.

Pesky Fleas Hard to Get Out of Home

Pesky fleas carried by your pets can keep you napping should they infest your home. They are an annoying, persistent and unwelcome guest in any home, observes County Agent Calvin J. Caldwell.

If an outbreak of fleas occurs, the source must first be located before control measures can be applied. If the source is the dog's or cat's bed, as it usually is, treat the animal for fleas and move it to a new bed. Then turn the old bed and treat the surrounding soil or floor with insecticide.

Fleas lay their eggs without leaving the animal on which they are feeding. The eggs drop to the ground or floor and hatch into tiny white worms that feed on animal or vegetable matter. Fleas develop in soil that is dry and protected from rain and sun. A dog's bed under the house is an ideal place. They may also breed inside a house in cracks filled with dirt and lint, or on the dog's sleeping place. The immature stages of fleas may be passed in as short a time as two weeks.

Dogs and cats should be kept free of fleas. Searching pets every week or two and treating whenever fleas are found will keep them from harboring the insects.

It is impossible to control fleas in an infested house until the breeding places have been eliminated. After this is done, one thorough treatment should rid the house of fleas. "One good method is to thoroughly vacuum clean, beat, sun, or dry-clean rugs and upholstered furniture and spray floors with insecticide."

Mabillon and Sevin are very effective insecticides and may be used on the animals and in the animals' quarters, Mr. Caldwell suggests.

4th Arkansas R. Bridge Planned
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski County planning authorities urged the state Highway Department Tuesday to route a proposed fourth Arkansas River bridge through the Maumelle industrial area.

The Maumelle location is about three miles upstream from where the Highway Department tentatively has decided to locate the bridge, which will serve a west bypass route.

Maumelle is being developed as an industrial park by the City of North Little Rock. The Highway Department was told that the bridge and the freeway would serve industries which might locate there.

The new route also would carry the freeway outside suburban areas.

Construction of the fourth bridge is at least four to six years in the future.

Jim Backus Is a Non-Conformist

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One of Hollywood's brightest and most outrageous spirits has taken up 13 weeks' residence in New York, delighted at an opportunity to head a summer replacement show.

That attitude, alone, marks Jim Backus as a non-conformist.

"People in Hollywood reacted as if I planned to spend the summer in Rangoon," he related, "and most of them were the ones who carry on about adoring New York because of the museum, the chamber music—chamber music!—and good conversation. That's a lot of nonsense—a person, former goes where there's work to be done."

Backus, who crept into America hearts as the voice of a near-sighted and winsome little cartoon character named Mr. McGoo, will take over next week as host on a revival of CBS' "Talent Scout" program. It will replace "The Garry Moore Show" on Tuesday nights starting July 3.

That is only part of the busy Backus' schedule; he also is signed for some host work on NBC's "Monitor" radio show.

He and his wife have their third book "What Are You Doing After the Orgy?" in the stores.

He has just finished making a holiday special, an adaptation of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" in which Mr. McGoo plays Scrooge.

Recently, too, he's been busy acting in movies—dramatic parts—and he is highly visible in reruns of series made in past years. So New York is almost a vacation for this active man.

Backus' first plunge into television consisted of 117 shows called "I Married Joan," in which he played the dignified judge married to comedienne Joan Davis, who has since died. The last program was made in 1955—and the series is still playing around the country.

"The people who made that series certainly had an eye for the future—particularly for getting future sponsors," Backus said. "We lived in a vacuum and in an absolutely sterile household. I never smoked—not even a pipe—so there was no problem with tobacco. We never drank, of course—when we wanted to be hospitable we'd offer guests some fruit. We never drove a car, and only once did we crack a topical joke—we mentioned Truman."

"The only way people can tell how old those shows are is by looking at my suits and my haircut—it started out long and we are acceptable to anybody who wants to sponsor us."

Later Backus was mixed up in a comedy series called "Headline Press," which was syndicated and is still seen.

"I would like to do one more series—one that would be sold to a network and would go on for at least three years," Backus said. "That would be financial security."

Stock Slump Blamed on JFK Policies

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although there is some dissent within the party about the use of gloom-and-doom tactics, Republicans are pounding the theme that President Kennedy's policies caused the stock market drop.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee has added its critical voice to that of the Republican National Committee, which has been suggesting that Wall Street has witnessed a "Kennedy crash."

In its weekly memo to members, the policy group said that returns from Kennedy's Yale speech June 11 "in which he made ambiguous statements to say the least, about the 'myths' of federal fiscal responsibility began to come home to roost" in market declines.

"And so it apparently began to look as if one couldn't strew a

L.R. to Bid on Sertoma Meet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Little Rock, Ark., will bid for Sertoma International's 1967 convention.

Little Rock delegates plan to make their bid at this year's convention which starts here today and runs through Saturday.

The Arkansas Poultry Federation, time-tested, sound economic altar with fiscal policy garbage, such as an expression at Yale that deficits are just 'sometimes' dangerous," the memo said.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., decried gloom-and-doom statements. But he suggested in the Senate Monday that Kennedy ought to send to Congress now "a tax program for the restoration of business confidence and the acceleration of economic activity."

Javits' suggestions included "substantial relief to low income taxpayers" and a reduction in the top bracket to about 60 per cent. He wanted corporation rates cut back to 25 per cent, with 5 per cent additional tax for business income above $500,000 yearly.

Debt Ceiling Set By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee approved today: President Kennedy's request for a temporary $306 billion debt ceiling. A Republican attempt to cut it lost by one vote.

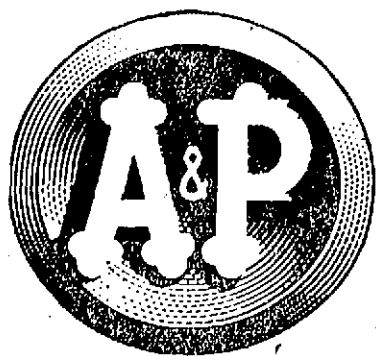

The committee sent to the floor for debate, probably Thursday, the House bill which hosts the present $300 billion limit to $308 billion for the first nine months of fiscal 1963 which starts Sunday.

Under the bill, the limit would drop to $305 billion from April 1 to June 24, 1963, and to $300 billion for the last six days of the fiscal year.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., proposed that the bill be amended to make the ceiling $306 billion for the first nine months. This lost 8-7.

The permanent ceiling now is $285 billion, but Congress has granted a $15 billion temporary increase which expires Saturday midnight.

New and Easy Money-Saving Main Dish

OLD FASHIONED STEAK IN MILK GRAVY

2 pounds round steak, pounded Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups water

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 tablespoons flour (about)
1 qt. evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)

Trim all gristle and bone from steak and cut steak into serving size pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge in the 3 tablespoons flour. Melt butter in skillet over medium heat. Add steak and brown on both sides. When steak is well browned, add the water, cover and cook over low heat until tender, about 1 hour. Stir in the 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Blend in flour a tablespoon at a time, adding just enough to bind the butter and fat in the meat drippings, that is to make the gravy smooth with no fat particles floating on top. (It may take a little more or a little less than 4 tablespoons flour). Slowly stir in evaporated milk. Cover and continue cooking over low heat until thickened, about 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Old fashioned steak in milk gravy is an invitation to good eating any day of the year. The steak for this popular dish is round steak. The milk gravy is made with evaporated milk so it is satiny smooth, thick and rich besides boasting the good steak flavor. For maximum flavor, the steak is first well browned. Then it is cooked gently in water until it is almost tender enough to cut with a fork. And finally the seasonings, flour and evaporated milk are stirred into the meat drippings to make the marvelous gravy.

Secret Army Seems to Be Giving Up

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—Leaders of the terrorist Secret Army Organization in Oran, which has virtually held that city in its grip for months, appeared today to be giving up the bloody struggle.

It was too early to be certain that the secret army was fading off the scene in the western Algerian city.

But there were these indications:

—French authorities reported that former Col. Jean Defour, one of the secret army leaders in western Algeria, made a broadcast Tuesday night ordering a halt to sabotage in Oran.

—Unconfirmed reports circulated in Oran that ex-Gen. Paul Gardy, had fled Oran with several of his aides. Gardy had announced he was taking over leadership of the secret army after several top figures in the organization were captured.

—Pierre Laffont, the director of the Oran paper, Echo D'Oran, and a leader of the European community, said Algeria should become independent in peace. In an editorial, Laffont called on residents of the Oran area to avoid new suffering during the days leading to independence.

—There were no fresh reports of violence in Oran, which has frequently been tortured by explosions and fires for weeks. Telephone communications, cut by

NLR Man Fined Over $1,000

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Selling whisky without a license on Sunday cost Robert Clingham of North Little Rock $1,000 in fines Tuesday in North Little Rock Municipal Court.

Clingham was fined $500 for selling whisky on Sunday and $500 for selling it without a license.

Police testified they saw Clingham pass a package to the driver of a car and that when they stopped the car the driver said he had bought whisky from Clingham.

Pedestrian Dies When Hit by Truck

CRUMROD (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jones, 36, was killed Tuesday when she walked from behind a stopped bus into the path of a pickup truck on highway 44 at Crumrod.

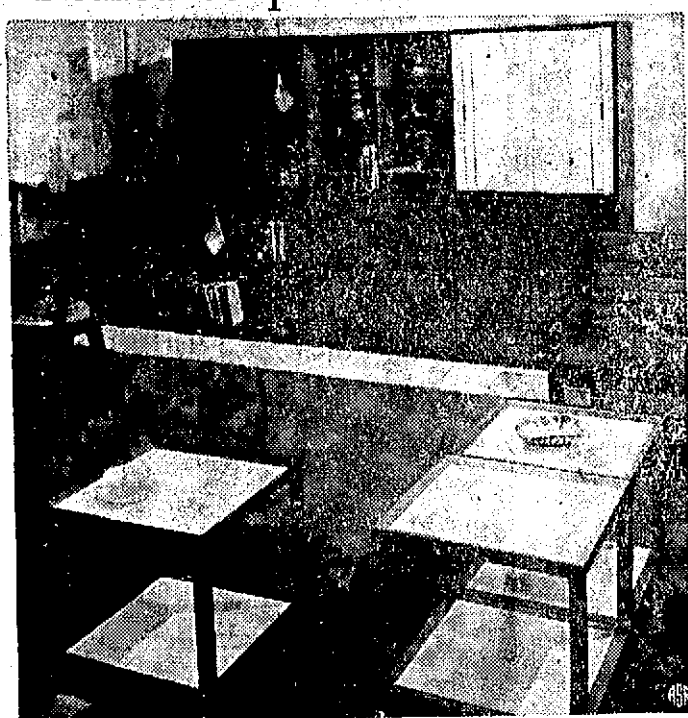

Phillips County sheriff Edgar Hickey said the Negro woman was hit by a truck driven by Burdell McWilliams of Crumrod. The sheriff said McWilliams was charged with involuntary manslaughter. A hearing was set for this morning.

McWilliams was returning to normal.

A huge fire on oil tanks on the waterfront caused authorities to close the port Tuesday, blocking the exit of European refugees by ship for at least 48 hours.

—Rene Soyer, a French official who has been trying to mediate between Oran's secret army and the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN), predicted a peace agreement by Friday. He left Oran, apparently taking new phone communications, cut by

Retired Couples Like Fresh Start

Most retired couples are eager to start their new life of leisure in fresh surroundings, perhaps in a smaller house in the country, or a centrally located apartment. Taking their cue from the young homemakers, they select home furnishings which checkmate housekeeping drudgery by practically wiping clean with a damp cloth.

Color has special meaning in the home of a retired couple. A light colored easy-to-care-for vinyl plastic flooring, or carpet of man-made fibers, makes furniture stand out distinctly. Bright vinyl wallcoverings in fabric textures, or handscreened prints, are newly practical because they are scrubbable, scuff and grease resistant.

The exquisite colors and look of quality materials are captured by upholstery vinyls, too. Immune to spills, they thrive on soap and water. Favorite chairs are high, and have straight backs for easy rising. Table tops of marproof and stain resistant melamine plastic laminate, preferably in white, and in small sizes, are easy to see without glasses, and easy to move.

Beds must be easy to make, because they often double as lounges during the day. Urethane foam plastic mattresses are as firm or soft as the individual desires, and light enough to be turned over without strain.

Thinks TV Made Her an Actress

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Carol Lawrence, who became a singing and dancing star on Broadway, says that television turned her into an actress.

"Nowadays in show business, television exposure is absolutely essential," remarked the pretty dark-haired performer. "It can be death if you don't get it. It helps so much."

Carol, particularly after her smash success in Broadway's "West Side Story," was in great demand for the popular television variety shows—where she had a chance to act in sketches with the stars.

"And if I had not had a chance with Garry Moore, Perry Como and the others, the producers would never have given me a chance to do a straight acting role in 'The Dybbuk'."

"The Dybbuk," one of a high-level, syndicated series called "Play of the Week," led directly to meaty acting parts in motion pictures—"The View from the Bridge."

Now, Miss Lawrence is a triple threat performer.

CBS, which plans to revive good gray "Pantomime Quiz"—a perennial summer replacement—as a prime-time fall show, is busily giving the parlor game a new look. Mike Stokey, who owns the package) will be replaced as lead-

Six Orbits Planned Late in Summer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today that the next manned orbital flight will be planned for as many as six orbits, sometime later this summer, with astronaut Walter M. Schirra as the pilot.

D. Brainerd Holmes, manned space flight director of the civilian space agency, said the decision as to the specific mission—that is, how many orbits will actually be made—will depend upon many technical factors which will be evaluated constantly up to the time of flight and even during the first turns around the earth.

If the mission goes to six orbits it would involve a nine-hour flight, compared with the 4½ hours of three-orbit missions. The two U.S. orbital flights so far have been for three turns.

The flight plan will call for considerable drifting flight to conserve fuel for re-entry maneuvering.

If the flight goes to five or six orbits it would mean landing about 300 miles northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific Ocean, although the space craft would be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. That is because of the rotation of the earth during the extra flight time.

A four-orbit mission would bring the craft down about 200 miles east of Midway.

Landing points for one, two or three orbits would remain the same as in earlier Mercury-Atlas missions, off the southeastern coast of the United States.

In making the announcement, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration official said:

"We believe that another three-orbit mission will increase considerably our growing knowledge of space flight. Anything more than three orbits should be considered a bonus."

The NASA official said astronaut L. Gordon Cooper will serve as backup pilot to Schirra.

Schirra, a Navy lieutenant commander, is a graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, is married and has two children. He is a native of New Jersey.

The selection of Schirra and the planning for six orbits had been reported earlier by the San Diego Union in a copyrighted story from Washington for Wednesday editions.

Selection of the primary and secondary astronauts and the decision to extend the mission followed nearly a month's study by NASA on the Malcolm Scott Carpenter flight, the Union said.

Have Right to Be Re-Elected Says Faubus

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today voters have a right to "reemploy a public servant if they think he has done a good job."

Faubus told about 130 supporters who paid $10 a plate to attend a fund-raising breakfast that he felt he had done a good job.

"The office of governor is too important," Faubus said, "to give it to someone simply because he wants it or can use it as a springboard to another office."

Faubus said the cornerstone of accomplishments of his administration was industrial development. He said 62,596 new jobs had been created under his administration and this employment in 1961 and 1962 stopped Arkansas population loss for the first time in three decades.

During the current administration, Faubus said, the average weekly wage has risen from $56.33 to $69.03, the per capita income from $979 to $1,420, the average annual teacher's salary from $2,284 to $3,614 and the annual expenditure for education from $59 million to $102 million.

Faubus said taxpayers voted by a two to one margin in 1958 for a tax increase to pay for additional state services.

While services have increased, Faubus said, state debt has been reduced from $110 million to $51 million in the past eight years and the state now is embarked on the most ambitious construction program in history, using surplus funds.

The U.S. Patent Office receives patent applications at an average rate of 40 per hour.

Hemstead county bears the name of Edward Hemstead, first delegate to Congress from the Missouri Territory.

Springdale, first settled in 1840 by members of the Primitive Baptist belief, who founded the famous Shiloh church, was named er by Pat Harrington, Jr. and they are changing the name to "Stump the Stars." But under all the paint, the game's the same.
